Overview

Here you will find an overview of specific sustainability endeavours in Bernese tourism, initiatives by Bernese destinations and offers and activities with the least possible impact on the environment. Sustainable event planning is becoming increasingly important. CDE is Switzerland's centre of excellence for sustainable development. We conduct research and teaching on behalf of a more sustainable. Numerous locations offer true sustainability and are pioneers in the responsible use of valuable resources. This ecological philosophy is demonstrated in many ways, including guest cards that provide free public transport, charging stations for electrical vehicles, comprehensive recycling concepts. Leading in the energy and environmental sector, with a large and diverse network of experts and numerous best-practise examples: Bern is the perfect choice for successful conventions on energy and environmental issues. The Wyss Academy for Nature - a joint initiative of the Wyss Foundation, the Canton of Bern, and the University of Bern - is on a mission to develop, test, and scale up innovations to harmonize nature conservation, human well-being, and natural resource use all around the world.
