Is it illegal to sell small photovoltaic panels on the street

Overview

---

There is no federal license required to sell solar panels; this responsibility falls to individual states. Some jurisdictions have created a specific license category, often called a “Home Improvement Salesperson” (HIS) registration. Solar panel conflicts typically involve disputes between homeowners, neighbors, and HOAs over aesthetics, shading, and installation restrictions in residential communities. Most states provide legal protections for solar installations while allowing reasonable restrictions, and conflicts can be. Instead of relying on centralized utilities, P2P trading allows neighbors to buy and sell solar power directly. But in 2025, the answer isn't simple. Still, opportunities are growing. However, some states. From California's groundbreaking solar mandate to Florida's net metering policies, each state maintains distinct rules that directly impact installation costs, energy savings, and property rights.
